PRESIDENT WOOD OF THE AMERICAN WOOLEN CO. PLACED UNDER ARREST

Indicted, Charged with Im- plication in Lawrence Dynamite Plot

Boston, August 29.—William F. Wood, president of the American Woollen Company, was placed under arrest this noon on an indictment charging him with being implicated in the dynamite planting at Lawrence, Mass. He was arraigned in court and held in $5000 bonds. His arrest has been charged to politics. It has created a sensation all over the city.

BOTH BRING SUIT.

Constitutional Nature on Thursday instituted a suit against Cabina Oraglo for assault claiming damages to the amount of $1000. Later Oraglo came back with one against Natale in which also charges assault and wants $500. Both cases will be fought under civil process. The arrests were made by Deputy Sheriff W. B. Shaw. Some over a hundred people went from this city to York yesterday to witness the illumination.

TO THE VOTERS OF WARDS 1, 2, 4, 5, irrespective of Party Lines:
GENTLEMEN:—The undersigned is a candidate for State Senator before the Primaries on Tuesday next, Sept. 3, against the continuance of that clause of our city charter that imposes upon our city a government by commission called "The Board of Public Works."

If you would aid in its repeal we shall feel honored by your vote, which is hereby most respectfully solicited.

Yours for every right of the people and the public good,

DAVID URCH.

SECRETARY MEYER IN CIRCULAR SAYS QUIET WILL RULE AT YARDS

Conditions Will Be Normal
Following Fleet Review.

The following circular from the Secretary of the Navy was received at the navy yard on Thursday and points out a quiet period for the first half of October for the several stations on the Atlantic Coast. This is something unheard of before in the history of the country preceding a Presidential election.

Navy Department,
Washington, D. C.
Aug. 23, 1912.

To Commandants of Navy Yards and Stations:

The Department invites your attention to the probable shortage of work at all the Navy Yards during the period October 1-15, 1912, as an incident result of the mobilization of the fleet; and the prospective return to normal conditions immediately after the review.

Advantage should be taken of this opportunity to accomplish outstanding work on yard craft and such other vessels as may remain at the yards.

As conditions will probably become normal shortly after October 15th, you are authorized, whenever practicable, to furlough in lieu of absolute discharge such employees as may be necessary and who are entitled to a mark of "excellent" for workmanship and conduct.

Signed,
G. V. L. MEYER
Sec'y.

OBSEQUES.

Edna A. Chick.

The funeral of Edna A. Chick was held from the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard T. Chick, 163 McDonough street, Thursday at 2 p. m., Rev. C. Le V. Brine officiating. Interment was in South cemetery in charge of undertaker O. W. Ham.

Candidate for Senator David Urch Fires His Opening Gun at Newcastle

Hall Jammed to the Doors and En- thusiasm Ran High

Major David Urch, candidate for State Senator opened his campaign at Newcastle last evening and made an address to a crowd that taxed the capacity of Pythian Hall. He was loudly applauded. His address was as follows:

One week ago we reluctantly became a candidate upon an issue of interest only to the people of Portsmouth, viz.—as an opponent to the continuation of a city government by commission, as represented by our Board of Public Works, and we published the statement in all the papers of our local press, that upon this issue ALONE we should ask the support of the voters.

The very next day our opponents, through the Manchester Union, and by others since, rightly, and justly raised another issue, upon which it is fair to assume, they hoped to catch us napping, especially in New Castle, upon whose voters we must rely for support. Therefore—

As a candidate seeking your votes for nomination for state senator from the 24th senatorial district of which your town forms a part, we have even encouraged an invitation "to address the citizens and tax payers hereof, relative to toll bridges, and upon any other subject matter that we may deem of interest to the voters and property holders regardless of party of your island town in general."

We have ever been, and firmly believe we shall ever so remain, an earnest advocate of the principle that the voters are, and should continue, the master, and the office holders

ONE GOOD TERM DESERVES ANOTHER

TO THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS OF ROCKINGHAM COUNTY:

Having held the office of County Commissioner for one term, I am a candidate at the primaries for renomination. I believe my record entitles me to a re-election and I ask your support at the Primaries on Tuesday, September 3. The Republican party has always accorded its County officials at least two terms.

REPUBLICAN COUNCILLOR NOMINATION

Party Precedent For Many Years Entitles Belknap County to Name Candidate for 1912.

To the Republicans of the First Councillor District:

Gentlemen—The undersigned respectfully solicits the support and votes of his fellow Republicans of the First Councillor District of New Hampshire, as a candidate for member of the governor's council, and brief sums up his reasons for asking support at the primary election, Sept. 3rd, as follows:

Following the precedent established by the Republican party for many years the nomination in 1912 belongs at the northern end of the district, and the undersigned is the only candidate residing in Belknap county.

My home city, Laconia gave a ma-majority of 352 for Councillor Entwistle two years ago; and the county of Belknap also gave large and increased majorities for all candidates on the Republican ticket.

I have served as a representative in the legislature from the city of Laconia three sessions, those of 1897, 1907 and 1911, and have also served one term (1903) in the New Hampshire senate from the Sixth district.

My candidacy for the governor's council was announced last May, and taking into consideration the above facts, I feel that Belknap county is fairly entitled to name the candidate at the coming election, and that having served as stated in both the lower and upper branches of the legislature I am qualified for the honor which I now seek, and shall sincerely appreciate the support of my party friends at both ends of the district.

Respectfully,

ELMER S. TILTON.

An expert has estimated that 60 per cent of the Misses population average about 5 feet 3 inches in height. For this type of Miss, we have, after careful study, produced Suits that have short waisted lines, so as to give correct and more artistic proportion of lines to height. This produces a much more graceful appearance and does away with the expenses of alteration of large garments which at their best are awkward and clumsy.

To Rockingham County Voters:

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for renomination as County Commissioner. As Clerk of the board it has been my duty to look after the finances of the County, during my term of office. We have made improvements at the County Fram in new buildings at a cost of ($24,000) twenty-four thousand dollars.

The debt of the County at the beginning of my term of office was $88,301.31.

At the present time it is $91,912.08.

You will see the County property has increased twenty four thousand dollars and the debt only three thousand, six hundred and ten dollars and seventy-seven cents.

On my record as Commissioner I ask your continued support.

A BIG FIELD OF GOLFERS AT ABENAQUI

C. W. Bass Makes Best Medal Score in Invitation Tournament.

The annual golf tournament at the Abenaqui golf club at Rye Beach was played on Thursday and while there was a large entry, it was not as classy a field as has played in previous years. The scoring as a rule was high, a high wind assisting in the boost of some score cards.

C. W. Bass of the Portsmouth Country club turned in the best card, with a 76, and the nearest to him was a 79.

Bass' card was
Out 2-4-7-5-4-4-4-3-4-38
In 3-3-3-4-5-4-5-4-5-85-76

There were three sixteens to qualify for cups for each and a cup for low medal score.

Match play at 18 holes was started after lunch and all of the favorites pulled through. Bass defeated Johnny Simons of Harvard, and Jesse Guilford of Manchester an ex-New Hampshire state champion defeated John Hyland Geo. Place the present state champion also got into the second round, but then he had a hard battle with W. J. Kershaw, defeating him on the 18 hole.

Makers of Baseball History Again Figure in Struggle For Pennant

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—McGraw and Chance are again the prominent figures in the struggle for the National league pennant. The Giants are in the lead, but the fight is not over and Chance declares that he is hopeful of coming out in front. The big lead that the Giants had earlier in the season has been cut down and in recent weeks the Cubs have been gaining. To be sure, the distance to be gained is considerable, but if Chance did not have the fighting spirit he would never have created the splendid baseball machine that has been battling for so long. McGraw is also confident, and though he knows that he can lose a few games and still finish ahead, he is trying to lose as few as possible.

NOT ALWAYS SOLEMN

SOME CHEERFUL MOMENTS IN LIFE OF UNDERTAKER.

Profession Not as Growsome as an Outsider Might Naturally Imagine—Why Customer Countermanded Order for Casket.

"Ours is a solemn business," said an undertaker, "and yet there happens in it something over which all concerned can reasonably be cheerful."

"The growsome old time coffin has now been all but supplanted in use by the modern burial casket, which in design and finish is as far from commonplace in appearance as it is possible to make it, and which is also made in very great variety as to the materials used and styles of finish and cost."

"It is not uncommon now for persons in health to indicate the sort of casket in which they desire to be buried when their time shall come, and sometimes such a person may select and buy a casket to be held for him. It is out of these modern changes in our mortuary customs that we get the occasional cheerful note of which I spoke."

"Some years ago there came to us to order a casket members of a family whose head was then, as supposed, mortally ill; that he must die appeared beyond a doubt; and it was desirable to make preparations for this event in advance because the casket required was of unusual size, and it was also desired that it should be elaborate in construction and finish. We had the casket ready in time, but when the casket was ready the man began to improve in condition and he continued to improve; and in the course of time he recovered his health and strength completely."

"Then there was the family with that casket on hand, of which he had no knowledge whatever, and they came to us to dispose of it, which of course we readily agreed to do. It was a costly casket, though that was no impediment to its sale, for we make and sell many beautiful and costly caskets; but its unusual size was against it, and it was some time before we finally disposed of it, which we did at considerably below its first cost. But this was a loss which the original purchasers were very glad to sustain."

"We once had a customer who had lost his wife and who came to us to bury her, which we did. After the funeral he came back to us. He had selected the casket in which his wife was buried and now he bought one just like it for himself. He was a man in health, with no prospect of death, so far as that was concerned, but he was greatly grieved and cast down over the death of his wife, and when he should die he wanted to be buried in a casket just like that in which we had buried her. So he bought this casket and we held it for him."

"Something more than a year after he met another woman with whom he fell in love and whom he married; and after that we got a letter from him saying: 'Sell my casket. I've no use for it now.'"

Mysterious Cave Dwellers.

The sentiment that accompanies the common desire for the preservation of historical relics of the American Indians, who are fast passing away or being merged into the civilization of a new century, is now being manifested in reference to the preservation of the home of the cliff-dwelling Indians, whose history is as mysterious and unrecorded as that of the lost tribes of Israel. Various theories have been propounded regarding the cliff dwellers. Legends have it that they are the descendants of Montezuma. The popular theory is that the Indians began by living in caves, the homes that nature had provided, and then, with the natural ingenuity of man, proceeded to excavate caves high up in the side of the cliffs, where they might be safe-guarded from attacks and where their supremacy would go unchallenged. Americans know very little of the history of the cliff dwellers or of the place where they formerly lived. If the Indians know, they do not tell. Harriet Quimby in Leslie's.

Gentlemen's Valuables.

So many men to whom the city missionary had given money for a night's lodging had expressed a preference for a certain east side lodging house that he wondered what constituted its particular attraction.

"It makes us feel self-respecting," the men said when questioned. So far as the missionary could see, it was a typical lodging house. He appealed to the manager. By what method did he fan the fires of self-respect in his guests? The manager pointed to a sign:

"Gentlemen are requested to leave their valuables with the clerk."—New York Times.

Discouraging.

"What's the matter?" "Oh, nothing." "No, no, don't tell me that. Something disagreeable or discouraging has happened. Your look shows it." "Well, if you insist on knowing, I started out this morning, feeling as gay and chipper as a boy of twenty; but a little while ago I met a former sweetheart of mine and she told me that her second daughter had just graduated from high school. Say, are the wrinkles around my eyes very noticeable?"

Washington, Aug. 29.—Adverse criticism of the State Department's central American policy during the closing hours of the last session of the Senate, with intimations that an American army would be sent to Nicaragua soon after Congress adjourned, are believed by some officials here to be the reasons which actuated President Taft in revoking the order sending the 10th Infantry from the Canal Zone to Nicaragua.

All authorities on international law in the State, War and Navy departments, are practically agreed that there is no technical difference between the Khaki clad soldier and the marine or bluejacket when employed as a landing force in a foreign country.

But there is a public sentiment which invariably associated the landing of soldiers with actual warfare and a permanency of purpose. On the other hand, marines and bluejackets are so frequently called upon for the most temporary and exigent service as to excite little comment.

From a military point of view, it is said at the State Department, the only effect of the President's action of last night will be to slightly retard the assembly of a sufficient American force in Nicaragua to insure the maintenance of communication between the American legation in Managua and the warships at Corinto, 72 miles away.

It is not believed that American interests or lives will be in great danger for the next two or three days, especially as knowledge of the purpose of the United States to use any necessary amount of force to accomplish the purposes announced by Minister Weitzel is fully known to the rebel leaders.

The Navy's reinforcements are beginning to report their arrival in Nicaragua. The gunboat Denver arrived at Corinto Tuesday, but the message announcing that fact to the Navy Department did not reach here until early today.

Besides reporting the arrival of the gunboat the dispatch said the cruiser California was to land about 400 marines and bluejackets at Corinto yesterday and steam for Panama to embark the 750 marines which the Pacific is now speeding to Colon for transportation across the isthmus.

The armored cruiser California, with Admiral Sutherland on board arrived at Corinto yesterday afternoon. She landed a number of bluejackets and marines, the number not being stated in the dispatch to the Navy Department, but supposed to be about 350, and left at 10 o'clock last night for Panama.

She is due at the latter port Saturday, and will immediately embark 750 marines, which the Pacific is expected to land on the isthmus about that time, and will take them to Corinto.

Copies of all cablegrams bearing on the Nicaraguan situation are being sent to President Taft. The 10th Infantry in the Panama Canal Zone is still being kept in readiness for duty in Nicaragua.

Upon his arrival at Corinto, Commander Washington, senior Naval officer in Nicaraguan waters, called into conference a committee representing the rebels. The revolutionary forces acquiesced in the demand for the immediate repair of the railway between Corinto and Managua and the opening of the telegraph communication.

A LABOR OF LOVE.

A Concert Given to the Tailors of the Sea by Behr's Orchestra.

The Carl Behr Orchestra of Hotel Wentworth, Newcastle, N. H., and the Hotel Somerset of Boston, assisted by Mrs. Edwin Daniels, gave a concert to Capt. Hall and his crew at Wood Island Life Saving station.

To watch these sons of Neptune drink in the strains of music was an inspiration to the gentlemen who played as well as the delightful singer, Mrs. Daniels. Giving their best to these receptive souls was a delight and pleasure to the performers and not a task.

Surely love for art is not confined to any set of individuals in society, but rather to those who have the capacity to love that which is beautiful in any art, though they may not understand the science. God in His Wisdom prepares the heart to receive what the head does not always understand.

These sons of the sea, who are devoting their lives and energy to the saving of lives, teach us the grand lesson of love for that which is elevating and beautiful. No symphony audience ever listened with more attention than did these noble fellows as the artists poured out a wealth of music to them. The bond of sympathy between an attentive audience and the player is one of powerful influence, and makes a unity that binds both together in the strongest ties. Jesus knew this influence and so does any artist and it develops that which is best in us.

Art is elevated by lovers of art, not by wealth or artificial culture. A receptive heart is the one great quality that elevates our love for anything be it poetry, sermon, painting or music, and among these receptive hearts must be included those of the sailors of the sea.

The law of good is a law of harmony and both have their basis in the great respecter of persons of the Universe, called God, is possible for the sailor of the sea to love and enjoy that which is pure and beautiful because one and all live, more and have their being in the creative spirit of the Universe.

The world is made brighter and better by such deeds of love as Mr. Behr and his orchestra displayed for those who have little opportunity to hear music and singing, and may their deserved success continue as they continue to reflect qualities that help to elevate those who are lovely in life but rich in the spirit of love for that which is ennobling and elevating in life.

KATHADIN AS A TARGET.

The old naval gun Kathadin will be fired upon by vessels of the Atlantic fleet during target practice early in September. The tests are planned to demonstrate the actions of the 12-inch guns upon new armor plate which will be witnessed by members of the Naval Committees of both houses of Congress.

The Kathadin is now designated as "the aide for ordnance experimental work of the navy," and her name has been stricken from the list.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 30, 1912.

The Minneapolis Journal says the cheerfulness which John D. Archbold gives up money indicates that it is not all his own.

The Indianapolis News says it seems that when the Suez canal lowers its rates. Thus showing at a glance that in spite of its immense capital and large transportation, it is not the same class with big business. When big business gets trade so good that its dividends increase, it concludes that it is not living up to its all-the-traffic-will-bear policy, and proceeds to raise its rates.

The Buffalo Commercial says T. R. was seized with a sudden desire to appear before the Senate committee investigating campaign expenditures, to answer the testimony of John D. Archbold, and wanted to do so this morning but his request has been refused, as the committee will not meet again till late in September. That's all right. Let him wait, whether it interferes with his campaign plans or not.

In the meantime the third-term declares his intention of writing a long letter to the committee, which is sure to be full of sound and fury, denouncing Archbold—who has gone to Europe—and all others who assert that he knew anything about Standard Oil contributions to his campaign fund of 1904. Nobody can prevent him from doing that, and at the same time nobody is bound to accept his state ments.

The Hartford Times says Mr. Debs' public utterances all read very much alike. So do all the proclamations of the socialist leaders. They are going to abolish "capitalism" and introduce industrial freedom for everybody except capitalists. The stock phrases about industrial slavery and class warfare are all repeated for the "acceptance" of his nomination for the presidency which the socialist nominee has handed out. Of course, he does not fail to dwell on the capitalistic "sin" of the bull moose party. Not to make the most of that would be to miss a very good point in the socialistic argument.

The Boston Transcript says: "A standard of youth at least for women appears to have been established by the directors of the Young Women's Christian Association at Chicago. Fifty over twenty-five who have accommodations in the building of the institution have been served notice that they must vacate and give place to younger girls from whom there is a growing demand for its privileges. While that may be intended merely as a matter of practical expediency, it must be quite a shock to those who have left their first quarter of a century behind to its significance so publicly proclaimed. Gray beards and bald heads have the line so sharply drawn and abound in Young Men's Christian Associations and in young men's political clubs and no unpleasant distinctions are made. That has been reserved for a class where it hurt the worst, and in fact it is somewhat of an injustice. At twenty-five a woman has just begun to feel an intelligent consciousness of her youth and is best prepared to enjoy its privileges and avoid its dangers. Perhaps she may find consolation in being admitted with the discretion to take care of herself more surely than some of her younger sisters."

Bird's Eye Views.

The man who starts a violent argument on politics in hot weather is almost as dangerous as the man who rocks the boat.

A political campaign is complicated by an effort to settle private feuds under the cover of general welfare.

It is not necessary for the summer resort hotels to provide their guests with a profile map of the mountains to sleep on.

The king of Montenegro has worn one hat for 16 years. In monarchical countries they don't have to throw it into the ring.

Anna Held divorced. Like other actresses who take the excursion into matrimony, she finds it necessary to use the return ticket.

Grandstand fell at the Marshall notification. If they had notified him by calling up by telephone all this would not have happened.

It may be that Col. Roosevelt looks forward to 1916 with the feelings of a boy who has a lot of fireworks left over, and has to wait for another Fourth of July.

In all fairness it should be noted that the court room demonstrations of the Cambrist were less objectionable than those of the Allen out-laws.

There is a lingering disposition in Baltimore to perpetuate the excitement of the democratic convention as a local issue.

Current Comment.

The so-called third party movement of Theodore Roosevelt is founded in dishonor and the proceeds in dishonesty its progress to record.

The latest evidence of its utter insincerity comes from Kansas, where the Republican party council of the state has by a vote of eighty to sixty two refused to force the Roosevelt electors off their regular party ticket. As a result men who are named for and will if chosen by a majority of the voters of the state vote for Theodore Roosevelt for president will stand before the people of Kansas as republican electors, whereas their chief, their candidate, their party creator has himself in the most explicit terms declared that he is through with the republican organization, that he is not a republican, and that he is the leader of a new faith, "standing at Armageddon."

The essential dishonesty of this sort of thing must eventually impress the American people in a way to cause them to appraise the third term candidate at his real worth as a man who seeks the presidency, not because there is work to do that he only can do for the good of the people, but because he loves power and glories in the lime light and fattens off the praise of the public and delights in fighting.

This appraisal will leave a great many people who are now deluded by the Roosevelt tradition, feeling decidedly contrite and humiliated, not because they have erred in judgment, but because an idol has fallen, a feeling more of sorrow than of shame.

The Kansas decision is tricky, no less, it will result in putting before the people of that state as republican electors who are no more republicans in their purposes and designs than the electors who are pledged to vote for Wilson, or those who are pledged to vote for Debs.

They are strictly and technically progressives. Rooseveltism, however, is not. Rooseveltism is a political name may be given to this new party.

To insist upon keeping them upon the regular republican ticket is to deprive all those people of Kansas who are not under the mystic spell of the necromancer of Oyster Bay and who remain true to their old party affiliations the opportunity to vote for president unless they switch to democracy or swallow Roosevelt against their wishes and judgement. If they are unable to put a list of electors upon their own ticket by convention. This is truly an edifying spectacle, a true version of Rooseveltism, one of those bits of smart practice against which the Big Moose himself so loudly bellows, but which he is perfectly willing his own followers should pull off for his benefit. Verily, "Thou Shalt Not Steal" should apply to everybody.—Washington Star.

Keir Hardie, Noted English Labor Leader, His Son and the Latter's Young Bride.

Copyright, 1912, by American Press Association.

Keir Hardie, leader of the Labor party in the British house of commons, recently arrived in this country to study industrial conditions. He will visit the mining sections of the east and west. He comes also as the advocate of a world movement to unite labor industrially and politically. Mr. Hardie brought along a bride for his son, James K. Hardie, who is in business in New York. The young woman was Miss Marion Stoddart of Old Cunnock, Ayrshire, Scotland, where she and young Hardie were schoolmates. The wedding took place soon after Mr. Hardie's arrival.

WITH BRASS BAND AND FIREWORKS

Union, that has not abolished them long ago, etc., etc.

In reference to the above allow us to respectfully submit that while we are in hearty sympathy with the spirit that prompts these complaints yet in the letter and fact, not one of them is true.

The promoters of toll bridges and ferries have been the pioneers in advance of the public needs, ever since civilization began to push its way east and west from Persia, Arabia and Egypt.

Just seven miles north of the sea of Galilee, and spanning the sacred river Jordan stands today a stone toll bridge structure, which has continued as such since long before history was written even by hieroglyphs.

Just as we know, not one of the forty-eight states of our union that can boast no toll bridge within its borders, Massachusetts comes probably nearest in supporting such a claim.

That toll bridges are antiquated and that we are living a hundred years behind the times, is disproved by the fact that:

We know of three comparatively modern toll bridges, and another one of the same character within sight of the others, still building, whose strength and magnificent proportions can hardly be matched in all the world. They stand as the latest of gigantic engineering feats, hard to measure in the scope of their benefits to all their local and visiting millions and insuring to the public good.

Come with us to the city of New York and one of the many sights they will proudly and justly proclaim and point out will be their modern bridges spanning their East river, and making Brooklyn by toll bridge, a part of Greater New York.

These structures are not owned by either the state or the city of New York, and neither wants or would have them free.

Their charters are owned by private individuals, who grant rights to transportation companies to carry for over and when you pay your fare to the companies, you pay your tolls, just as you do when you pay Mr. Meloon for your ride to or from Portsmouth.

Two thirds at least of all the income for repairs and other necessary work of our individual efforts. (Note: expenses of the New Castle bridges is derived from visiting non residents where all and much more, would have to be paid for by the local taxpayers if the bridges were free; and inasmuch as no proposition has ever been made by anyone for their purchase, it seems fair to assume, that nobody in this vicinity wants to buy them.)

Where then shall we look for a purchaser and maintainer to relieve us from the bridge tolls?

Now we want to define our position upon the toll bridge question in words that will not be misunderstood that whether by help of your votes we are nominated and elected as your next state senator, or whether we are doomed to stay at home, we will not only not oppose any movement to free any or all the toll bridges of this state, but will join in such a movement, and promise our best efforts in behalf of such a project, under the same conditions that carefully attaches to that and all other private property when taken for public use.

Our state legislature offers, by far, the most promising field for aid in the freeing of toll bridges when properly and energetically demanded, and particularly is this the case with the bridges connecting your town with the city of Portsmouth, as may more fully appear by the following:

Some years ago we were nominated and elected by the aid of your votes to the same office for which we again ask your help on Tuesday next.

At that time together with your Representative, James W. Prichard, aided in the construction and introduction of a joint resolution appropriating Twenty Five Thousand Dollars ($25,000) for beginning the construction of an ocean boulevard from Fort Constitution in New Castle to the Massachusetts state line.

The battle for this sum was well understood to be the opening wedge that would commit the state to finish the work thus ordered, by similar semi-annual appropriations for years to come, and was a hard one to fight, particularly in the senate.

The House cut the appropriation to Twenty Thousand Dollars ($20,000) and trusted to the senate to reduce it further, or better still as many of them hoped, kill it!

Did we have to work for that resolution? Stop and think! All but two of our senators and those were for economy and opposed to us politically represented districts remote from the proposed improvement, many of them from one to two hundred miles, and it wasn't natural for any of those to be very enthusiastic over a measure for the benefit of only the dwellers on the coast, and your town was repeatedly named as the one to get most of it, and that committed the state treasury to an expenditure eventually of upwards of a quarter of a million dollars.

The appropriation passed the senate as it passed the house, and it is only fair that we should claim the credit for having it found and applied?

Since that time a number of appropriations have easily followed for continuing the work, but have you seen any sign of making your town an important terminal for a state highway that would increase the value of every foot of your territory hundreds of per cent? And yet the state is committed to this very project!

Have your workmen had a day's employment or received a dollar from the thousands spent? Have your property owners received any money as damages from the lay out that was ordered by state authority? Do you see any hundred foot wide boulevard with its crushed stone driveway ending anywhere within the rules of Port Constitution? And yet the state has by legislative act adjudged and decreed that it is your right!

Why is it delayed? Go ask the man in the city of Portsmouth who spent the money and had the choosing of the places to be benefited! Did he prove a friend of yours?

Why is it delayed? Ask the present senator who you helped elect to the last legislature, and who is now asking your votes to return him what HE did toward the redemption by the state of its pledge to you of ten years before, to build through your town an ocean boulevard.

Ask him if he can show by his record that he freed any considerable number of toll bridges, or even tried to, as he promised he would do if elected.

Ask him where the eastern terminal of that boulevard that cost the state upwards of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) rests today and so rested during all the time he rested in the legislature, and he will have to tell you, that because of somebody's apathy and want of interest in your town, it stops so far as HE showed interest with the last legislature as a project abandoned, at a gravel pit between the ocean and a salt marsh over on Ogdons Point.

One more appropriation, and that grand work would end at the place that the state intended and has adjudged that it should, viz: Port Constitution, and once there, no one will doubt that the state could be easily induced to free and support the New Castle bridges.

Now as a candidate, and a solicitor for your votes, we ought, in justice to be allowed the privilege of presenting to you any other claim we may be able to show for your favor.

During the same session, as that wherein the first appropriation for the ocean boulevard was obtained, we introduced in, and passed through the senate, at the request of your lobster fishermen a bill, that at once became a law, making the size of lobsters that may legally be caught and marketed, less in length. (Note: See page 218, Journal of Senate.)

We also went before the house committee on appropriations and

City Council Accepts Hon. Woodbury Langdon's Gift of $5000 and Adds a Like Sum--Other Business.

The Mayor and City Council met on Thursday evening for the first time for two months, and in a little over an hour they did considerable business.

The princely gift of Hon. Woodbury Langdon of $5000 to be used toward the improvement of the South Pond was accepted and the Council passed a loan bill of $5000 more to be used with Mr. Langdon's gift and this will be expended by a special committee. The Council also took the matter of the passage way between Pleasant and Church streets, and also the matter of the wharf at the foot of Gates street.

The meeting was called at 8.25 and Mayor Badger had several communications. One was an urgent invitation to Mayor Badger to appoint a delegate to the Hygienic Congress.

Another communication was received from the County Treasurer stating that there had been a mistake made in the county tax warrant and it was for $27,469.73 instead of $23,156 making a saving of nearly $1500.

Mayor Badger appointed Dr. A. B. Sherburne and Miss Emma J. McGraw as Library Trustees and the appointment was confirmed.

Mayor Badger stated that the Treasury Department had demanded a guarantee of the city that the placing of the Hovey memorial fountain on the grass lot would not entail any expense to the government. The Mayor had signed the guarantee and his act was ratified.

Mayor Badger read the following message.

Mayor Badger's Report.

To the Honorable City Council:— I am authorized by the Honorable Woodbury Langdon to state to you that Mr. Langdon will pay to the City of Portsmouth or a properly authorized committee of the City Council, the sum of Five Thousand Dollars on condition that it be expended to aid in carrying out the improvements as are outlined in a plan and drawing of the upper part of the South Pond made by Civil Engineer William A. Grover and which I herewith submit.

Since the institution of the public playground it has been obviously apparent that a demand would sooner or later be made for the improvement of the pond adjacent thereto and the City called upon to defray the expense. In view of these facts it appears to me to be a wise policy for the City Government at this time to authorize a loan negotiation for Five Thousand Dollars, the payment of which might be distributed over a period of five years and the necessary appropriation made, and a Committee of the City Council appointed and authorized to take charge of the work. Said committee to be further empowered to appoint an auxiliary citizen's committee to work with them in an advisory capacity.

Therefore, I recommend the acceptance of Mr. Langdon's proposition respectfully submit these suggestions for your consideration.

Daniel W. Badger, Mayor

Petitions.

There were a great many petitions the accumulations of two months and they were all disposed of.

A petition of Captain Fred Lindsay of the steamer Queen City for permission to have a floating stage off Murrage wharf, as he was to run two steamers and he has not the room at his present landing was received, and there was some question of the city having the right, but on the advice of Solicitor Emery who said that the granting of the petition would not do any harm it was granted.

The quarterly report of the City Marshal was received and filed.

Willing to Settle for Half.

Councilman Herrick for the committee on Claims reported that the claim of Mary Flynn for $25 for damages from a sewer was in their opinion a little high as the greatest part appeared to be for a plumbers bill. They would settle for half and the matter was referred back to the Committee to effect a settlement.

Is a Public Way.

Solicitor Emery reported on the matter of the passage way between the North church and the Beattie store, which has already been published and the matter was left with him to see that the passage way was kept open for the public, as it was clearly the property of the city.

Another matter referred to the Solicitor to bring action was the filling in of certain land on Mechanic street at the foot of Gates street which was clearly the property of the city. If the land was filled in it would belong to the city, but to prevent any mistake being made the Solicitor will serve notice on the adjoining owners not to fill in the dock.

Resolution of Appreciation.— REF. SALVER, by the City Council of the City of Portsmouth, N. H., assembled, as follows:—

That Whereas, the Hon. Woodbury Langdon has proffered to the city of Portsmouth the sum of Five Thousand Dollars, for the purpose of aiding in the improvement and development of the upper portion of the South Pond (so-called) and thus convert that part into a most valuable and beautiful adjunct to our public playground, to which also Mr. Langdon has in the past contributed liberally towards its development and usefulness.

Therefore, be it resolved

That it is the sense of this Council and is consistent with the public good that an appropriation of public money be made for the improvement of the said part of the South Pond and that it will be a beautiful beautification and valuable addition to the public playground; therefore the offer of a contribution of Five Thousand Dollars from Hon. Woodbury Langdon is hereby accepted for the purpose aforesaid and the thanks and appreciation of the City of Portsmouth is extended to him for the munificent gift and also for his other benefactions to the City.

And be it further resolved:

That the City Clerk is hereby instructed to engross upon the records of the city a copy of this resolution.

Passed The City Council, Aug. 29 1912.

Loan of $5000.

A resolution offered by Councilman Leary calls for a loan of $5,000 to be used with a like sum offered by Hon. Woodbury Langdon to fix up the South Pond. The Mayor is authorized to borrow this sum on five notes, payable at the rate of a thousand dollars a year for five years. This passed, under a suspension of the rules.

Councilman Herrick moved that the Mayor appoint two members to act with himself to have charge of the expenditure of the money. Councilman Herrick and Leary will be on the committee and an advisory Committee of citizens will be appointed.

To Sell Stock of N. Y. N. H. and M. Councilman Leary offered a resolution for the Sinking Fund commission to sell the 855 shares of the stock of the N. Y. N. H. and M. R. R. held by the city. Mayor Badger said that the Sinking Fund Commissioners had the authority but a resolution was asked of the Council. It was passed.

A resolution by Councilman Parsons calls for the sale at public auction of the lot owned by the city between Union and Spring street.

Attorney Guphill notified the Council of claims against the city by Julius Gooch on Hancock street, Benjamin Russell of the same street and Ella Phibney of Marcey street due to defective sewer and the matter was referred to the Board of Public Works to report.

Sealer of Weights and Measures.

A resolution for the appropriation of $400 to build a city scales was laid on the table. A resolution from the Sealer of Weights and Measures for $25 for carriage hire was passed, after it was explained that he had already received $50 for expenses.

The auditor's report of bills amounting to $14,711.78 were order paid $9,000 of this was paid to the Sinking Fund according to law.

Adjourned for a month.

The gunboat Nashville is expected to arrive at the Navy Yard on Monday next for repairs and will stay weeks.

Think Old Rig the Best.

It is certain that if the members of the Marine guard had their say in the matter of uniforms none of the new rigs that are being worn for trial would be adopted. The guards are inclined to hang to the old uniform which they believe cannot be beat for a regulation rig.

Injured in the Dry Dock.

Leonidas H. Sawyer of Kittery Point was injured while at work in the dry dock on Thursday.

A spur shere fell on his left arm badly lacerating the same. After treatment at the yard dispensary he was sent to his home. The injury will keep him from work two or three weeks.

Want O'Brien and Hanson.

It is certainly hard to please fans as to the make up of base ball teams but there is a small amount of local people who think that Jack O'Brien of the Knights of Columbus, and Seth Hanson of the Elks, should be included in the lineup of the star team of this city who are to meet the All Stars of Concord on Labor Day.

DOGS FOR FARM WORK

AS VALUABLE AS TRUSTY HIRED MEN, SAYS WRITER.

American Agriculturists Have Not Sufficiently Appreciated Their Wide Usefulness, Though It Is Recognized In Europe.

In England and Scotland, farmers learned long ago the value of dogs to farm work. There the universal custom is to have dogs daily do their part the same as trusty hired men.

Here in America, however, few farmers know the value of a well-trained dog. We are the losers because of this fact. We will learn, of course, in years to come, and working dogs that are a daily help will replace the countless farm help "misfits" now imposing on the farmer's generosity.

It once happened that the owner of some sheep dogs worked them back and forth among flocks of sheep at the same place where many farmers were assembled in convention. The farmers witnessed the work the dogs were doing as the sheep were moved from barns to pasture, through pens, gates and lanes. They were amazed to find them so helpful and wondered at their intelligence. They saw them go quietly around the edges of a pasture and gather in the sheep from far away, while the owner waited at the gate. They saw them herd the sheep along the lanes, doing work two men could not have done. And they profited by what they saw.

They began to believe that the useful dog will eventually be on most American farms, when we get to studying more carefully for ways and means to save work and expense. It may be on some large estates many different men are employed, thereby leaving little opportunity for anyone to train a dog. But on the average farm this is not the case.

Any farmer tired from a hard day's toll would praise the faithful dog that would go the mile or two into the pasture to bring in the cows while he prepared the feed for them.

No reference is made to the dog we find on many farms that knows only enough to run and snap at stock, driving them in whatever direction they care to go. Such a dog is of little value, for he drives the stock away as often as he brings them back to the pen they have left. Such a dog might have developed into a good one. It was the fault of the master that he was never trained. Let no man forget how important it is to have his dog well trained and carefully educated to do his bidding. The green untrained dog is like the unbroken colt or the new hired man. Neither is good as a real helper until taught to do as you wish him to do.—Farm and Fireside.

Why He Was a "Sucker."

William E. Mason of Chicago, at a banquet given to lawyers and politicians, was called upon for a story and told the following:

"A well-known Illinois politician was speaking at the same banquet with a governor of New Jersey some years ago. The Jersey governor went into exhaustive figures as to the wealth, agricultural and manufacturing resources of his own state. In fact, he seemed to lack terminal facilities, for he talked about forty minutes.

"Before he sat down he said: 'I am to be followed by a silver-tongued orator from Illinois, and I hope before he sits down he will tell us why they are called "Suckers."'

"Our friend from Illinois said: 'Mr. Toastmaster, when I heard the description of the agricultural products of New Jersey I was almost ashamed to come from the corn belt of Illinois, and when he told us of his state's manufactures, it made Illinois look small, but I noticed, Mr. Toastmaster, that you and the gentlemen about you seemed incredulous—in fact, I could tell by your expression that you did not believe a word he said. I want to say to the governor of New Jersey that I believe every word he said, and that is the reason I am called a sucker.'"

Blasting at the Canal.

In the last five years the operations on the Panama canal have required 40,000,000 pounds of dynamite, for blasting, or an average of $1,650,000 pounds per year. The estimates for the year ending June 30, 1912, are $3,633,000 and for the 12 months following only $3,986,500. The comparatively small amount for the latter is due to the approaching completion of the excavation work, which will make the total of dynamite used over $2,000,000 pounds. Reckoned by tons, that will be 26,000 tons, which sounds bigger or smaller according to the mind of the person reading it.

For the coming fiscal year the estimated need of other materials for blasting is 328,000 blasting caps, 1,940 pounds of insulated wire, 10,000 feet of connecting wire, 565,300 feet of lead wire, 627,700 feet of electric fuses, 36,000 feet of triple tape fuse.

Overfeeding.

A lot of people eat too much, and a lot more don't eat enough. Some stuff till there isn't room for another swallow and then eat some more in between and then kick that they haven't enough. There are those whose earnings just spill over in a thimble, but who expect results as if their weekly check covered all Manhattan. A good rule is to leave off eating while there's still room for more, and fill it up the next time.—New York Press.

NAVAL NOTES

Record of Admiral Zane.

The Army and Navy Journal publishes the following on the retirement of Rear Admiral Zane formerly on duty at the Portsmouth yard.

Rear Admiral Abner V. Zane, U.S.N., who was retired for age Aug. 14, 1912, was born in Pennsylvania, Aug. 14, 1850, and was appointed a cadet engineer in the Navy Oct. 1, 1871. He was promoted assistant engineer Feb. 25, 1875, passed assistant engineer Aug. 21, 1881; chief engineer 1893, and lieutenant commander March 3, 1899, captain in 1907, and rear admiral Oct. 17, 1911. Rear Admiral Zane was a member of the party sent to the Arctic to search for the Jeannette in 1881. He was with the late Lieut. Charles F. Patnam when the latter was lost in the ice, drifting out to sea.

His first duty after graduation was in the old Worcester, of the North Atlantic Station, 1875. He was also, among other duties, in the Wyoming, of the European Station; in the Rodgers on special service in the Arctic; in the Bureau of Steam Engineering, 1885, and was with the North Alaskan expedition of 1886-7. After special duty with the new cruiser under construction at Philadelphia 1887-8, he was on duty with the Omaha out on the Asiatic Station. His subsequent service included duty at the Naval Observatory, in the Michigan and Alabama and in the Keary as fleet engineer to Oct. 10, 1902.

He was later on inspection duty at Philadelphia, was head of the department of steam engineering at Portsmouth, N. H., and his last assignment was as president of the board of inspectors for shore stations Navy Department.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICE HELD AT GEN. BOOTH'S BURIAL

Representatives from All Parts of the World Gathered Around Grave of the Founder of Salvation Army.

London, Aug. 23.—The body of Gen. William Booth was laid today beside that of Catherine Booth, his wife, in Abney Park Cemetery.

Representatives of reigning houses and of President of Republics, including the United States joined around the grave with many thousands from the masses whom the founder of the Salvation Army had tried to uplift.

Delegates of legislative bodies, civic corporations, the Army, the Navy, business men of all branches, workmen who had sacrificed their day's wages, sweeping women and children, of whom the general was a true friend, marched shoulder to shoulder in the great procession which followed the body to its last simple resting place.

A great gathering of members of the Salvation Army assembled from all parts of the United Kingdom and from many foreign countries in the vicinity of the Salvation Army headquarters at an early hour this morning. The rain poured down from daybreak, but when the procession was about to start the skies cleared. The thousands who had stood for hours in the rain were undismayed by the long march before them to the cemetery. The hearse was decorated only with dry palms placed over the "blood and fire" banner draping the caisson. The celebration battle flag which the general had planted on Calvary was placed at the head of the coffin and as this was done the flags of the foreign deputations and of the English Provincial Corps dipped in salute.

At the same time the vast crowd reverently uncovered their heads. Then the general's campaign cap and favorite Bible were lifted on to the platform of the funeral car.

The scene was a most impressive one as the delegates from the Province and abroad, stepping slowly to the solemn strains of the "Died March in Saul" played by 40 bands, marched by the funeral car and came to the full salute as they passed the coffin. A guard of honor composed of the chief local and foreign officers of the Salvation Army stood at attention round the hearse.

Many of those present, especially the women, wept as they saluted their dead leader.

The procession took three hours to traverse the five miles from the starting point to the cemetery gates. All along the line on both sides of the streets were enormous crowds, which became more dense as the approach to the cemetery was reached.

Beside the grave was erected a platform on which the members of Gen. Booth's family and the leaders of the Army took their places as the coffin was borne in.

NEW STAMP IS APPROVED

The design for the new two cent stamp which is to commemorate the Panama Pacific international exposition, commonly known as the Panama exposition, to be held in San Francisco in 1915, was approved today.

The shape of the new stamp is oblong, its dimensions being about six inches in height, by an inch and a quarter in length.

It will be about the size of the stamp commemorative of the Jamestown exposition.

In the center is an engraving accurately representing the Galton locks of the Panama canal, showing a steamship issuing from the southern lock, and another vessel being raised in the northern one.

In the middle distance is a group of tall palm trees, and in the background rise the hills of the isthmus. The color of the new stamp has not yet been decided upon. Across the top are the words "U. S. Postage" in one line and in the second line, "San Francisco, 1915." Below is inscribed Galton Locks, and below that, in large capitals, the word "cents." In each lower corner is a large Arabic numeral "2." In the border on the left is an olive branch, typifying peace, balancing it on the right is a palm branch, indicative of both victory and the tropics.

The design of the stamp is simple and artistically the lettering standing out with remarkable clearness and precision, while the denomination is indicated so very plainly that it could not possibly be mistaken or confused.

This 2 cent denomination is the only one that will be issued in commemoration of the exposition.

It is the Postmaster General's intention to have the new stamps ready for the public at the earliest possible time.

DETROIT AND THE CADILLAC

Detroit was discovered by Cadillac in 1701. Recently at Detroit the "Cadillac Pete" took place and "Cadillac, the Discoverer" impersonated by a well known Detroit man, rode in an automobile named after himself, "The Cadillac," the motor car named after Detroit's founder has been recognized as the world's standard of value. C. E. Woods, 60 Bow street, local agent for Cadillac cars.

AT THE ANNUAL MEET

MRS. JONES PASSES DOWN THE RECEIVING LINE.

And Strange to Say, Though There Was Some Sameness in the Remarks, She Votes the Whole Thing a Bore.

The Usher—This is our president, Mrs. Swift, whom I think you have met before.

Mrs. Swift—I should say so, whom we have been next-door neighbors for eight or nine years! Glad to see you just the same. What a lovely day for our reception—lovely! You remember how it rained when we had our annual affair last year? Floods and torrents! Today is so much better. This is our first vice president, Mrs. Todhunter.

Mrs. Todhunter—Happy to see you. Delightful day, isn't it? And so many have come out! I hope there will be refreshments enough. Everything seems to be going off so nicely. So glad you could come. Let me present you to our second vice president, whom you know, I am sure.

Second Vice President—Considering that we are own cousins, I guess we do know each other. Awfully glad you could come, May. You said last night that—You really like my gown? It's sweet of you to say so. You don't think it too much for an occasion like this? No? I am so glad, for I felt a little worried, and—You know our ex-president, Mrs. Crozier, of course.

Mrs. Crozier—Of course! You were a member of the club all the time I was president. How do you do? What a lovely day for us! Last year it did rain! It makes it so bad when it rains on our annual affair. How lovely the room looks! And how charming the refreshment tables are! Of course, you know Mrs. Esterham, our treasurer.

Mrs. Esterham—O, how do you do? So glad you could come. Were you here last year? Didn't it rain? So many have spoken about the difference between the weather this year and the weather last year. I said last night that I was sure that we would have a good day today, because there was such a nice sunset. Every one seems to be having a good time. Well that is what we came for. Let me present the chairman of our board of directors, Mrs. Bankum.

Mrs. Bankum—O, we have been friends for ages! But I am glad to see you all the same. And on such a beautiful day! So different from last year. You recall how it rained? Aren't the decorations tasteful? Pink and green make such a pretty combination. Last year we had violet and white, but I like pink and white better. I want to present you to Mrs. Hilobran, who is president of the Progress club over in Springdale.

Mrs. Hilobran—Happy to know you Mrs.—Mrs—I don't just get the name Jones? O, I thought it sounded a little like Johnson. There is so much talking in the room. We have a Mrs. Henry Jones in our club. Is she a relative of yours? No? As you say, Jones is quite a common name. They tell me that it rained terribly last year when you had your annual reception. Well, you certainly can't complain of the weather this time, for it is ideal, simply ideal. So glad to have met you.

Mrs. Jones—Thank goodness, that's over with! If there is any greater bore than going along a receiving line and being presented to a lot of people you have known all your life, or a lot you haven't the least wish to know, I don't know what that bore is, and never want to—Puck.

Gold Nugget Punctures Tire.

A puncture in your automobile tire isn't always a misfortune. At least Joseph Kneebone doesn't think so, and he will never kick again when a blow out delays him on the road. The reason for Mr. Kneebone's philosophy may be explained in the fact that while driving to Grass Valley, Nev., a day or two ago, with the thermometer at 90 degrees, he suddenly heard a report which caused him to lose his temper.

Getting down from the seat he looked upon the spectacle of a punctured tire, and proceeded to fix it. During the course of his labors he had occasion to stop near the little stream of water that was close by, and which is inappropriately named Dry creek. His eyes were caught by a sudden glint between the rocks, and stooping over he picked up a gold nugget that proved to be worth $70. The nugget exactly fitted the cut in the tire, and had caused the puncture.

Giving Her Time.

Mr. and Mrs. Nubbubs were not at ways on good terms. It was rather a sore point with Mrs. N. that her hubby seldom took her out, and it rankled.

The other evening, however, Nubbubs arrived home very elated and pleased with himself.

"My dear," he remarked, "I'm going to take you to the theater."

Mrs. N. rose to the occasion and expressed her pleasure suitably.

"Yes, I've got the tickets, and it's a fine place. Next Tuesday week's the date."

"How splendid!" echoed the lady, "Yes," he chimed, "and you might begin to get ready at once!"

Awoke Commercial Instinct.

It is a sad blow to faith in human nature, says the New York Tribune, to learn that the rewards offered for dead flies over in Flushing have induced the youth of the land to take to breeding the buzzing pests to gain wealth the quicker.

BIG DAY AT RAND'S GROVE

New Hampshire Liquor Dealers Association Annual Outing Best in History of the Organization

Nearly two hundred members of the New Hampshire Association of Wholesale and Retail Liquor Dealers assembled at Rand's Grove, Rye on Thursday for their annual outing. The day was all that could be desired for the occasion and those who have attended these outings in past years say the affair of yesterday eclipsed anything since the association was organized. The list of sports were the following: Fat man's race which William E. Richards of Newmarket and Joe Bonaventure of Berlin laced down the line with several other weighty speed men. The Newmarket man tore up the ground for 29 yards and landed first prize with the Berlin man a close second.

Brasserie of Suncook was the first in the (high-heavyweight) race, a 100 yard race open to all classes, urrier of Somersworth captured the prize with Robert of Newmarket as second. The baseball game between team 1 and team 2 was declared a tie with 13 runs on the scorers sheet for both sides. Empire Gowdy of Boston declared five innings was enough to decide who of the players would make the team next year and ordered the managers of both to have several layers take up early practice if they want to make the big show. The shore dinner prepared by caterer Frank C. Leary was a feature of the day and included the following: steamed clams, lobsters, green corn, sweet potatoes, potato chips, rolls, pickles, watermelon, coffee, cigars. Arrangements for the outing were made by George Steele, Percival H. Robinson, M. Robinson, William H. Harrington and H. Fisher Elledge, representing respectively the Jones, Portsmouth and Eldredge breweries, were prominent in the proceedings.

RAILROAD NOTES

General Superintendent Charles E. Mellen of the Boston and Maine and his official staff are making a three days inspection of the Fitchburg Division and White River Junction territory of the northern division. Vice President Timothy E. Byrnes of the Mellen lines arrived at the north station on Thursday from Centerville, Vt.

Comencing Thursday the roads entering the North and South stations in Boston will run important through trains in sections until after the coming rush is over. Loud whistling of locomotives on the Conway branch at South Berwick has been prohibited owing to excess in the vicinity of the station.

The work of driving eighty piling again this morning at the round case here to be used as the tunnel in construction with the new cooling plant. John Hiddensdale, motorman of the Portsmouth electric railroad is confined to his home by illness.

W. A. Barker, law agent of the Boston and Maine was here on business connected with the legal department on Thursday.

The timetable at Amesbury is out of commission several days for repairs.

Premier Scenic Temple Programme

For Friday and Saturday.
"Rube Marquand wins"—Kalam.
A sensational baseball drama featuring Rube Marquand the famous pitcher of the New York Giants and Miss Alice Joyce. Marquand has established a new world record this season by winning 19 consecutive games. A picture all Sunset League "fans" should see.

"The Moth and the Flames"
This is an exceptionally strong western story of unusual interest.

Song, "Waiting for the Robust E. Lee" Miss Eva Young.

"An Adamless Eden" S and A.
A rollicking comedy subject of the funniest sort. A lone man wanders into a feminine Eden and the result is one long string of joy laugh.

"Mr. Pickwick's Precipitous"
This is a most excellent drama portrayed by the Edison company.

Song—"That Haunting Melody" Miss Eva Young.

"The Little Wanderer"—Kalam.
A powerful story centered around a little child. There is a strong heart interest and thrills aplenty in this picture.

"His Windmill"
The Ledge Warbler and the Cuckoo Two Pithy subjects in one reel.

Matinee 2.30. Evening 7. Saturday evening 5.30. Dancing as usual.

WILL CLOSE TUESDAY

The hotels Appledore and Oceanic at the Isles of Shoals will close on Tuesday and the last trip of the steamer will be the afternoon run from the Shoals.
